BILL STATUS: As Introduced

FEDERAL

IMPACT: State

Summary of Legislation: This bill requires the Air Pollution Control Board to adopt rules for a facility that generates public electric power (1) to require, in the construction or operation permit review, the reporting and use of emissions of air contaminants from internal combustion engines used for on-site and off-site transportation that supports the facility; and (2) to require the construction or operation permit applicant for the facility to supply complete information when the application is filed.

Effective Date: Upon passage.

Explanation of State Expenditures: The bill requires the Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) to adopt rules. This requirement is within IDEM's routine administrative functions and should be able to be implemented with no additional appropriations, assuming near customary agency staffing and resource levels.

Background. The board must adopt rules that require certain facilities to include in emissions reports emissions of air contaminants from internal combustion engines used for transportation that supports the construction or operation of the facility. The bill also requires IDEM to use emissions reported in all aspects of the process for permit review, issuance, and renewal in which the level of emissions of air contaminants from the facility is considered. The rules must prohibit the issuance or renewal of a permit for construction or operation of a facility if the application for issuance or renewal does not include all of the information required.
